Fine Art

- In front of Vdara, Nancy Rubins has created one of the most visually stunning commissions within the ARIA Fine Art Collection with a large-scale installation: “Big Edge” 2009. Measuring approximately 57 feet wide and 75 feet long, Rubins’ work of art is a colorful composition of numerous aluminum rowboats, canoes and other small river and ocean vessels finessed into a gravity-defying form that is both delicately balanced and precisely engineered. It is one of Rubins’ few works with a permanent home
- At Vdara’s reception desk is one of artist Frank Stella’s most prominent works. “Damascus Gate Variation I,” created in 1969, features a design of interlaced semicircles incorporating luminous colors of blue, red, orange yellow and white on a 96 x 384-inch canvas
- Vdara’s concierge lobby features a commissioned work of art by Peter Wegner, entitled “Day for Night, Night for Day” 2009. The work is comprised of two wall pieces made of stacked, colored paper, one solar-themed, composed of a range of yellows and oranges and soaring approximately 45 feet, and one lunar-themed, projecting a range of blues and reaching approximately 34 feet high. Also designed by Wegner, hanging lanterns act as a conversation starter between his solar and lunar pieces and provide soft light that cascades down into the lobby
