DÉCOR

Javier's Mexican-influenced décor is warm, dramatic and sensuous. The lounge is adorned in 4,000 metal decorative nail heads called clavos and each decoration and piece of furniture was custom-made for the ARIA location, including hand-crafted pottery from Guadalajara, Mexico; reclaimed vintage belts adorning window and doorframes; and opalescent abalone tiles covering the walls and ceiling in The Marcos Room. The artistic anchor of the restaurant's décor is the world's largest piece of chainsaw art, spanning 25 feet and weighing 3,000 pounds, carved by celebrated artist J. Chester Armstrong. The intricate work of art features five 5 x 10-foot panels illustrating the Mayan Creation myth blended with modern Mexican history.

CAPACITY

The 9,000-square-foot restaurant features a circular main bar, intimate lounge and two expansive dining rooms seating a total of 280 guests. The Private dining room called The Marcos Room holds 20 guests.
