LAS VEGAS (January 5, 2026) – Following a complete creative reimagination, The Mayfair Supper Club at Bellagio Resort & Casino in Las Vegas returns with an all-new production and an expanded culinary and cocktail program, ushering in a bold new chapter for the resort's coveted dinnertainment experience.

Overlooking the Fountains of Bellagio, The Mayfair once again sets the scene for a glamorous Las Vegas night where dinner and live performances share the spotlight. Produced by award-winning Outside The Box Amusements (OTBA), the new dreamlike spectacle builds throughout the evening with live music, choreography and unexpected moments, paired with culinary creations that elevate classic supper club fare through international influences.

"The Mayfair is bringing back the magic that defines Las Vegas, where you never quite know where the night will lead," said Ari Kastrati, Chief Content, Hospitality and Development Officer at MGM Resorts International. "Every element – from the production and food to the cocktails – works together to create an experience designed to surprise, seduce and linger well beyond the final course."

Known for creating shows for some of the world's most high-profile musicians, residencies and events, OTBA curated a collection of world-class entertainers with diverse skill sets and performance styles to bring this fantastical vision to life.

The Spectacle

Guests arrive inside The Mayfair's film noir dreamscape, where the city's most iconic dinner party unfolds with stunning acts. Each phase of the night is a distinct chapter, transitioning from live music to choreography, stunts and jaw-dropping acrobatics, all performed in avant-garde fashion.

Throughout the evening, guests are drawn into a narrative shown through an eclectic cast of characters, inviting them to mix, mingle, and experience the performance as it surrounds them. Cutting-edge lighting, immersive sound and innovative aerial apparatuses throughout the dining room transform dinner into a fully sensory experience.

Randy Weiner, principal at OTBA, added, "It is a special challenge to take on a project like this, blending a large-scale theatrical production or concert residency into a restaurant experience. We relish the opportunity to transform dinner into a dreamlike theatrical journey told in distinctive chapters, so guests can return to The Mayfair at different times and enjoy an entirely new evening."

The Flavors

Bellagio's culinary team introduces more than a dozen new signature dishes designed to be as visually striking as they are indulgent, with several integrated into the show itself.
