

Bellagio Announces Spa Remodel, Elevating its Timeless Wellness Experience

Newly reimagined oasis set to open in late 2026

Women's Lounge Rendering

LAS VEGAS (February 4, 2026) – Bellagio announced today plans to remodel its iconic spa, marking the next chapter in the resort's ongoing evolution and continued commitment to deliver best-in-class guest experiences. Construction is slated to begin in March, with the new Bellagio Spa set to debut in November.

Long celebrated for its refined approach to wellness, the 55,000-square-foot spa sanctuary will be reimagined as a more intuitive and connected journey that preserves the timeless sensibility that has defined Bellagio for decades. The redesign will enhance arrival, relaxation and circulation throughout the space, while fostering more personalized moments between guests and spa professionals. Updates include transformed men's and women's facilities, upgraded treatment rooms, elegantly appointed corridors and co-ed lounges, expanded food and beverage offerings and a variety of elevated amenities.

Designed by Woogmaster Studio, the design firm behind the recently remodeled Bellagio Salon and several other enhancements throughout the resort, the remodeled spa draws on classical architectural influences, reinterpreted through a fresh, modern lens. Rich, moody ambient spaces add intimacy, and custom furnishings and thoughtful details create a spa that feels unmistakably Bellagio – garden-oriented, refined and quietly magical – where a sense of grandeur meets a deeply personal retreat from the first moment of arrival.

Throughout construction, Bellagio remains committed to ensuring guests can enjoy its wellness offerings. The remodeled salon and barber space continues to offer a full range of hair, nail and beauty services. Select spa treatments will be available on the fourth floor of the Spa Tower and through in-room services, and the Fitness Center will be temporarily relocated to the Promenade across from Tutto.
