Marking a bold new chapter for one of Latin rock's most influential bands, ECOS reimagines their legacy through an innovative live experience unlike anything the band has done before with Gustavo, Charly, and Zeta once again together on the same stage, made possible through cutting-edge technology. Promoted by Live Nation, the SODA STEREO ECOS Tour is already a regional phenomenon, and its debut offered a glimpse of what audiences can expect throughout an extensive international tour that will bring this show to countries across Latin America, Europe, and now the U.S.

Behind the production is a massive collaborative effort involving creative teams, producers, technicians, and specialists across multiple disciplines. The response has been overwhelming—no one wants to be left out. ECOS invites audiences into a world where the unreal becomes real, where dreamlike moments come to life, and where technology makes possible the most anticipated reunion. The band that never left—the one that shaped the history of Spanish-language rock and united generations through its music—beats again, louder than ever.

SPOILER ALERT!!

It's not a tribute or a homage — it's not a film.

There are no guest artists or a new singer. It's a live show.

Soda = Avant-garde
