'Christmas In The Air' takes center stage at Beau Rivage, Dec. 12-27

Limited Holiday Engagement Features Jake Hoot, Season 17 Winner of The Voice

BILOXI, Miss. (Nov. 16, 2026) – This holiday, Beau Rivage invites guests to experience the magic of the season as the acclaimed production Christmas in the Air, returns to the stage, Dec. 12 – 27. Reimagined for 2026, this first-class family holiday spectacular features awe-inspiring, synchronized high-kicking chorus girls, world-class performers, and proudly welcomes special guest star Jake Hoot, Season 17 winner of The Voice.

Blending the excitement of a Broadway-style show with a heartwarming holiday story, the production is guided by three of Santa's spirited elves as they lead audiences through an unforgettable Christmas adventure. The show combines timeless holiday classics with modern favorites, all showcased through awe-inspiring choreography, spectacular costuming, and precision dance numbers you have to see to believe. Complete with laugh-out-loud audience participation scenes and a talented supporting cast, Christmas in the Air delivers festive fun and memorable moments for every member of the family.

"We have brought back a holiday favorite -a snow globe come to life- but updated it to give the audience a new experience," said Jeb K. Rand, the producer, director and creative force behind the holiday show. "And with the addition of our special guest star, Jake Hoot, this will be a show to remember!"

American country singer-songwriter Jake Hoot is best known for winning Season 17 of NBC's The Voice. He went on to write and perform his winning original track, "Better Off Without You," which served as his breakout debut single. A regular at the Grand Ole Opry, Hoot and Kelly Clarkson's "I Would've Loved You" music video received critical acclaim, earning 8 million YouTube views and national recognition.

The show is produced by Jeb K. Rand, president and executive producer of Las Vegas', Rand Enterprises & Productions. Rand's entertainment career spans more than 30 years, first as a member of the US figure skating team, and then as a lead performer in productions around the globe, including eight years at Radio City Music Hall with the Radio City Christmas Spectacular, starring the Rockettes. His production team has more than 60 years of combined experience working directly with Radio City and the Rockettes.

Christmas in the Air tickets start at $14.95 plus tax and service charge. Family four-pack ticket packages are $45 (code: FAMILY) and $55 (code: CHRISTMAS). Members of the military can receive 20 percent off select performances.

A VIP experience is also available for an additional $35 per ticket and includes a post-show cast meet-and-greet with Jake Hoot, a digital cast photo on stage, an exclusive show laminate, and an autographed show poster. Christmas in the Air tickets and packages may be purchased at the Beau Rivage Theatre Box Office, by phone at 1.888.567.6667, or online at Christmas in the Air.
